London, November 30.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.
From the Paris Gazette, dated Dec. 2.

Naples, October 31.

THE Pope's Nuncio has made great Complaints about the Affair of Benevento to Count Daun; who has answered that it was done without his knowledge, and that as soon as he was informed of it, he caused those who were the Leaders of that Enterprize to be imprisoned, in order to punish them severely. The embarkation of the Spanish Soldiers who were here is continued, and most of them have with difficulty obtained Leave to take with them their Wives and Children. They had some hope that of several Musters due to them, they should have been paid one before they embarked, but they could get nothing. Many of them had taken Refuge in the Churches, and among them were some Seamen, who refused to serve because they were not paid. Hereupon Count Daun sent to ask leave of Cardinal Pignatelli to take them from thence. The Cardinal answered, that he could not allow the taking away of any but the Seamen; and an Ordinance was published, commanding every one to remain on board within two Hours on pain of Death; however, several of them made their Escape. The others desired that they might not be made responsible for what might happen in the Voyage, if the Spaniards being embarked by force, should mutiny when they were out at Sea. In the mean while on the 26th a Review was taken of them, and on the 28th they were Embarked, on two Men of War and ten large Tartans, and sailed to Bajæ, whence they came back the same Night to this Port by reason of bad Weather. During the Night 25 Soldiers and 6 Officers stole away, and some others were taken by the Guards posted in several Places by Land and on the Water, and these are Imprisoned. It is still said they will be transported to the Coasts of the Adriatick under the Dominion of the House of Austria, thence to go to Hungary: But it is rumoured that the commanding Officer is not to open his Orders till they are got 40 Leagues beyond Capri. Besides the Troops, there are Embarked on these Ships a good Number of Cannon and Mortars, with store of Bullets, Ammunition, Arms and Tools, to be landed at Reggio, Cotrona, and other Places, which are putting into a state of Defence, as in time of War. Besides, Count Daun has given Order for casting 20 heavy Cannon and 4 Mortars, and all the Lead which was at the Custom-house and in the Merchant's Ware-houses is seized. The Vicariate continue to examine the Depositions of the Poisoners, and there being several Persons of Consideration involved in that detestable Business, a Courier has been dispatched to Vienna for positive Directions how to proceed in so nice a Case. This Day an Edict was published, commanding all the French settled in this City and Kingdom to depart forthwith.

Florence, Nov. The 20th of this Month Prince Ferdinand, who had been a long time sick, was taken so ill, that extreme Undction was immediately administered to him, which he received with great Marks of Piety in Presence of the Great Duke, who hastened to him as soon as he heard of his Danger. The Archbishop of Florence and the Bishop of Fiesole came to assist the Prince, who being in perfect Sense asked for the Viaticum, and received it in a Manner that melted all who were present, often begging Pardon for his Sins, and making Responses to the Prayers that were put up for his Soul. His Speech left him 5 or 6 Hours before he expired, and he died a little after 20 a Clock, being universally lamented for his Wit, Humanity, Magnificence, and all Manner of good Qualities. His Funeral has been performed with all imaginable Pomp; and the Great Duke has ordered that the Guards and other Marks of Honour which that Prince had, as presumptive Heir, be given to Prince John Gaston his Brother; and has signified to all the Officers of the deceased Prince that he will take Care of and provide for them.

Paris, Dec. 2. We have Advice from Fribourg, that the Garrison of the Castle and Forts, with the Prisoners that were in the Town, did not march out till the 22d, because of the bad Weather; whereas they should have marched out the 20th, with all Marks of Honour, to be conducted in 5 Days to Rotweil, pursuant to the Capitulation published the 18th of November.

London, November 30.

In the Court of Wednesday last (the 25th of November,) in a Letter from the Hague, Mention is made of some Difficulties raised by the Spaniards, which had retarded the Conclusion of the Treaty of Commerce between the two Nations. "We have since been assured by a Gentleman who is perfectly well informed of all the Facts relating to the said Treaty, and who has had Opportunities to peruse the very Treaty itself, that there are no such Difficulties remaining; But that on the contrary the whole Account given of them in the said Letter from the Hague, is in every Particular false; And that there is sufficient Ground to believe that the Treaty will be brought to a good Conclusion in a very few Days.
